Agronomy Tip Sheet

As we look forward to the warm weather ahead, it is important to make the most of our summer forages. Summer annuals are a great way to improve summer grazing or provide a large amount of hay or baleage for winter feeding. Growing a summer annual is also a great way to help get weeds under control in worn out hayfields or pastures you want to reseed this fall.

There are a few keys to success if you are planning to use summer annuals. Make sure soils are warm. Soils need to be 60 degrees and warming. Mid to late May is usually the right time for our area. Seeding depth is very important; make sure your drill is set properly for your particular variety. Fertility is also important; follow your soil test recommendations and provide plenty of nitrogen. A nitrogen application at planting and between cuttings will help you achieve the highest yields.

Speak to a CFC representative to help in selecting the best variety for your operation. We can help you plan for success with your summer annual crop. Read more on our website, www.cfcfarmhome.com/agronomy/agronomy-tip-sheet.

Feed Spotlight: VitaFerm HEAT with ClariFly beef cattle mineral

VitaFerm HEAT with ClariFly is a great tool to fight flies and deal with summer fescue. It has a unique blend of clove, cinnamon and chili pepper to help maintain circulation to support animal performance in both heat and fescue situations. The added advantage of ClariFly® helps to stop flies in their larval stage and includes garlic to deter insects. VitaFerm also provides Amaferm, a precision-based prebiotic that impacts intake, feed digestibility and nutrient absorption for maintaining performance during heat stress.
