Fall Is The Time To Fertilize Your Lawn

Fall is a crucial time for lawn care. Now is the time to evaluate your lawn and make a plan to obtain the beautiful yard you want in the spring. Do you have thin or bare spots in your lawn? Are weeds a problem? CFC can help!

Fall is the best time to fertilize your lawn. Feeding your grass in the fall helps promote root growth that will help your lawn survive winter and be ready to thrive next year. A good root system will help your grass be healthy and sustain it through next summer. Take a soil sample so that you know exactly what your lawn needs. CFC can help you submit a sample and evaluate the results. We are happy to help you find the right products.

We also have a variety of turf seeds and mixes that can help you thicken your grass. A thick and healthy stand of grass is your best defense against weeds. If you need extra help, a weed and feed product may be the answer. Let CFC help you get your lawn healthy and beautiful.

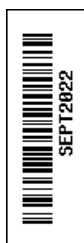

Agronomy Tip Sheet

As we turn the corner to fall it's time to think about forages for your animals this winter. Do you have enough hay? Looking at planting a winter annual forage may be a good option for grazing or baleage late fall or early spring.

Planting oats in early September can provide forage for late fall, mix it with annual ryegrass and you will have forage for early spring. Triticale, wheat, or rye can also be planted throughout the fall to provide forage for grazing or hay in the spring. CFC can help you choose the right product or mix for your farm and needs. We have lots of options or we can help you put together a custom seed mix that will work for you.
