Agronomy Tip Sheet

As we head into fall it is a good time to think about fertilizer for your hayfields and crop land. Applying phosphorous and potash in the fall has several benefits. On hayfields, the phosphorous and potash helps with root development to help your grasses survive the winter and thrive as temperatures warm in the spring. Another benefit of a fall application is that it gives the products time to break down in the soil so that more of the nutrients are plant available in the spring, this applies to hay, pasture, and row crops. Applying fertilizer in the fall can also help to reduce the workload in the spring when time and weather can limit what can get done. Once the crops come off this fall you can go ahead and get soil samples to help plan your fertility needs. Find this and previous tip sheets at www.cfcfarmhome.com/agronomy/agronomy-tip-sheet.
